

Pedestrian Deaths in Los Angeles, San Diego and Orange Counties

According to the California Highway Patrol's Statewide Integrated Traffic Report there were 640 people killed in pedestrian accidents with motorists in California in 2010. Los Angeles topped the list with 195 deaths and 4,535 injured in pedestrian accidents. San Diego also reported a high number of pedestrian deaths at 55 with 888 injured. In Orange County, there were a large number of pedestrians injured or 770 people and 32 deaths

